Before I Knew Your Name

Mark Erelli

(Mark Erelli)

I walked these streets before I knew your name Now you're by my side and nothing seems the same Has everything been turned around or am I the one who changed I walked these streets before I knew your name I knew this town before I dreamed of you Back when the whole place only came in shades of blue Nowadays it seems that dreaming's all I ever do I knew this town before I dreamed of you On every street my memories unravel There's a history down each winding avenue These days the only roads I seem to travel Are the ones that always bring me back to you I walked these streets before I knew your name Now you're by my side and nothing seems the same Has everything been turned around or am I the one who changed I walked these streets before I knew