Brompton Oratory

Mark Lanegan

Up those stone steps I climb Hail this joyful day's return Into its great shadowed vault I go Hail the Pentecostal morn

The reading is from Luke 24 Where Christ returns to his loved ones I look at the stone apostles Think that it's alright for some

And I wish that I was made of stone So that I would not have to see A beauty impossible to define A beauty impossible to believe

A beauty impossible to endure The blood imparted in little sips The smell of you still on my hands As I bring the cup up to my lips

No God up in the sky
No devil beneath the sea
Could do the job that you did, baby
Of bringing me to my knees

Outside I sit on the stone steps With nothing much to do Forlorn and exhausted, baby By the absence of you
