

Wedding Dress

Mark Lanegan

Would you put on that long white gown and burn like there's no more tomorrows?

Will you walk with me underground and forgive all my sicknesses and my sorrows?

Will you be shamed if I shake like I'm dyin'
When I fall to my knees and I'm crying?

Will you visit me where my body rests
Will you put on that long white dress?

Ba dadada, da, badadadada dadada

Ba dadada, da, badadada

The end could be soon, we'd better rent a room so you can love me

Will you put on that long white dress while I burn when there's no more tomorrows?

Will you remember me through the years I'll miss and forget all the sadnesses and the sorrows?

Ba dadada, da, badadadada dadada

Ba dadada, da, badadada

We got married in a fever, now you love me

Get a room, so you can love me
