

Rebirth

Mark 'Oh

Rebirth - I'm shedding my skin
The blood of a thousand men
Is raining down on my past
Nobody cared and nobody asked
Rebirth - I'm shedding my skin
The words of a thousand men
Are fading into the past
Now I don't care and now I don't ask
I watched the world collapse behind me
As the shadows climbed my back
I let the devil sit beside me
And I've walked the thorny track
I felt the knives of envy stabbing
As I trod the barren earth
Let the crawlers do their grabbing
This is my Rebirth
Rebirth - I'm shedding my skin
The blood of a thousand men
Is raining down on my past
Nobody cared and nobody asked
Rebirth - I'm shedding my skin
The words of a thousand men
Are fading into the past
Now I don't care and now I don't ask
Yes I refused to do the kneeling
And converse with evil tongues
I could feel my backbone healing
No begging had been done
A path of fire so demanding
Every step if which I'm worth
No I expect no understandings
This is my Rebirth
Rebirth - I'm shedding my skin
The blood of a thousand men
Is raining down on my past
Nobody cared and nobody asked
Rebirth - I'm shedding my skin
The words of a thousand men
Are fading into the past
Now I don't care and now I don't ask
Rebirth
Rebirth
Rebirth - I'm shedding my skin
The blood of a thousand men
Is raining down on my past
Nobody cared and nobody asked
Rebirth - I'm shedding my skin
The words of a thousand men
Are fading into the past
Now I don't care and now I don't ask
