

End of Everything

Mark Owen

Sometime in this sweet sweet century
Oh we will die together
Oh my love my sweet
My sweet array, we will surrender

Sometime before we become enemies
Could we lay down here somewhere?
Underneath the stars up on the hill, my sweet surrender
Follow me with your cuts of the deal and all your sorrow
Enter if you can through all the tears of your parade

(Chorus)

This is the end of everything we know
The end of all we know
The end of all we'll ever know
This is the end of everything
End of everything we know
The fall of all control
The end of all we know
All this started something big

Oh my love, my lust
Sweet jingles
We'll never lose our way again
Until we have reached and cried for help
There will be silence
Oh sweet melody
The same from a pray
And we are restless, come to rest
Can't always the sun
A hologram, on hollow ground

This is how it ends
This is how it ends

Broken in the street
Sweet century, oh we will die together
Sometime in this week, sweet century...

(Chorus)

This is the end of everything we know
The end of all we know
The end of all we'll ever know
This is the end of everything
End of everything we know
The fall of all control
The end of all we know
All this started something big

This started something big
We know
We know
That we know

This is the end of everything we know

This is the end of everything we know
