

The One

Mark Owen

Throw your hands up to the sun
I heard you're looking for the one
The more you look, the less you're gonna find here

Your heart is full of holes again
You're falling through the soul again
You think so much, you're gonna blow the idea

Life, it's the delicate trials of life
With it's glorious twists and turns
And no matter which way you go
It's the greatest ride of your life
And we measure those tears we cry
With a bitter hope for the best
When you coming back down?
What are you falling, falling?

Everytime I close my eyes
I can feel the world in love
Everytime I close my eyes
It's bigger than the whole of us
Something in the atmosphere
Underneath the skies above
Everytime I close my eyes
I can feel the world in love

Tell me where do we begin
When everyday we start again
And everyday we win some and we lose it

If all we are is our mistakes
The world is yours to navigate
When practicing the art of doing nothing

Life, take a very bright look at life
It's a marvellous thing to know
It's a marvellous thing
What are you looking for?

Everytime I close my eyes
I can feel the world in love
Everytime I close my eyes
It's bigger than the whole of us
Something in the atmosphere
Underneath the skies above
Everytime I close my eyes
I can feel the world in love

Are you looking for the one?
For the one
Are you looking for the one?
For the one
Are you looking for the one?
For the one
Are you looking for the one?
For the one

Everytime I close my eyes
I can feel the world in love
Everytime I close my eyes
It's bigger than the whole of us
Something in the atmosphere
Underneath the skies above
Everytime I close my eyes
I can feel the world in love
