

Us and Ours

Mark Owen

Gold hearts breaking into pieces
And love your singing hallelujah
Earth won't fall but the mountains gonna shake
Are we dancing in the waves tonight
Speed light shooting in the corners
Far back our simple little minds were
Falling like birds from the open sky
Are we heading for the big fire?

You said, don't, don't Waste your time on my eyes
Cos they've got broken signs
And holes and tears that hide away
Oh
You said please don't ask me for the last word
Silence starts in four swings. We're listening
Cos a body that hurts is a body worth moving

Oooo us and ours
Ohhh it's gonna be a bright day someday afternoon in this whole
House
You said it
Oooo us and ours
Ohhh gonna ride those highs and lows of flesh and bones
The sun will set and we'll all start dreaming

Hopes of the promise that I held, on my tongue lost along the way
It's hard to lose anything that you never had. I loved the time we made
These days getting something out of your faith,
Wrap the words around me
The truth is out in the perfect sentence never to be heard again

You said don't, don't count your blessings
Too much, you make them less inside
And feel until they've gone away
Oh
You said hold me, please don't hold too tight
We've still got lots of lines to fill and homes to build
And a body that hurts is a body worth moving

Oooo us and ours
Ohhh it's gonna be a bright day someday afternoon in this whole
House
You said it
Oooo us and ours
Ohhh gonna ride those highs and lows of flesh and bones
The sun will set and we'll all start dreaming

Us and ours (4x)

Oooo us and ours
Ohhh it's gonna be a bright day someday afternoon in this whole
House
You said it
Oooo us and ours
Ohhh gonna ride those highs and lows of flesh and bones
The sun will set and we'll all start dreaming
