

Days Of Thunder

Mark Wills

Yeah yeah
I had a six pack of beer in the bushes the weekend I turned 18 I snuck out the back while my mom and dad watched Johnny Carson on TV

Well I picked her up at the end of the road
A red bandana in her hair
I turned the radio up in that old Datsun truck And drove off to God knows where

Those were the days of thunder
that was a magic summer
Young, dumb, and full of wonder thinkin' it would last forever

Love struck like a bolt of lightning
So strong and so exciting rainy nights I still remember Those days of thunder

Over 90 miles an hour down a two lane road with just one hand on the wheel the other one wrapped around her body And I found out how freedom feels

Those were the days of thunder
that was a magic summer
Young, dumb, and full of wonder
thinkin' it would last forever

Love struck like a bolt of lightning
So strong and so exciting
rainy nights I still remember
Those days of thunder

We were movin' so fast left foot on the gas
And we never looked back

Those were the days of thunder
that was a magic summer
Young, dumb, and full of wonder
thinkin' it would last forever

Love struck like a bolt of lightning
So strong and so exciting
rainy nights I still remember
Those days of thunder
