

Love's not enough

Markéta Konvičková

You call it love but, you've been building walls Don't even know, what we're fighting for You have no shame, the way you cut me down Thought it would change
But I'm in pieces now I've layed my heart down
And it's shattered on the ground

Go turn and walk away every single day you stay only makes it harder for me to say goodbye no matter how I try (how I try) Love's not enough, no not enough
Love's not enough, to save us (save us)

All we've been through, such a price to pay My heart beats blue Wishin' we could change
Your poision in my veins, it will always be the same

So go turn and walk away every single day you stay only makes it harder for me to say goodbye no matter how i try Love's not enough, no not enough
Love's not enough to save us

Were not invisible
I can finally see What we really are What we'll never be

Oh, oh Yeah!

Go turn and walk away every single day you stay only makes it harder for me to say goodbye no matter how i try love's not enough (love is not enough)no not enough love's not enough to save us x2
