

She Wrote Me A Letter

Marmalade

She wrote me a letter saying she changed
And all the love we shared is gonna be rearranged
I waited her so long and we went back
No change come untill she ever tried
How long can you be with the one you love
Oh, how long should it be
Till the stars shine above
How long ever been

Can't she remember all the things I've done
Is all the past to her like a haze in a midday sun
Well I guess you'll try to change your ways
But our hearts remain the same in all those days
How long would I be with the one I love
Oh, how long should it be
Till the stars shine above
How long ever been

Can't you change
Can't you see you're wrong
Feel me help my feelings
When you know this time you're gone
How long would I be with the one I love
Oh, how long should it be
Till the stars shine above
How long ever been
