Back To Blackout

Marmozets

Hey! Hey! Hey! Hey!

It's like taking a bullet to my heart
And I'm so scared to see your face under the mask
And pretending, still pretending, is not good enough
Yes you said it, and I felt it
But the feelings have flown away into...

The sky is higher than we thought
It's higher than it's meant to be
But things do change when you kiss me, when you kiss me
We've never crossed this line before
We're taking it step by step
And I still believe when you kiss me, when you kiss me
And things do change when you kiss me, when you kiss me

I felt like getting right in your face
Why you said the things you said, still we don't even know
And pretending, still pretending, is not good enough
Yes you said it, and I felt it
But the feelings have flown away into...

The sky is higher than we thought
It's higher than it's meant to be
But things do change when you kiss me, when you kiss me
We've never crossed this line before
We're taking it step by step
And I still believe when you kiss me, when you kiss me
And things do change when you kiss me, when you kiss me

Not gonna let me back out to blackout
Not gonna let us back out to blackout
What if we, what if we back out to blackout?
Not gonna let us back out ot blackout

The sky is higher than we thought
It's higher than it's meant to be
But things do change when you kiss me, when you kiss me
We've never crossed this line before
We're taking it step by step
And I still believe when you kiss me, when you kiss me
And things do change when you kiss me, when you kiss me
And I still believe when you kiss me, when you kiss me
And I still believe when you kiss me, when you kiss me
