

Cover Up

Marmozets

Cover up, cover up, cover up you

Were gonna live long Cos my heart knows and my dancing bones told me so
They laughed and told me so
They laughed and told me so

So I left it all behind because I got a second chance
from a covered up life

But I did so much in the mean time Yeh.

Cover up, cover up, cover up, cover up yourself
When I was always there for you but You could never tell so

With a hand on my heart
Your words taste good
But your mind is truly burnt
Your holding on to bold
Your holding on to bold

from a covered up life

But now its time to wake up from your covered up self
