frined

Somehow Somewhere and I call call you my heavenly pearl oh could you make me overstand dis ya difficult wold with all things running up and down and faster than fast with all the lights sparkling in bars and wars one million letters making history in every day I read the news see the writings on the wall on my way while one a differ between tiny little bigger and mad the other differ between yellow, red, brown, snowwhite and black and who feels Lord he knows it and what he sees is dreader than dread red tears stealing your hope man but you can?t forget what has been done yeah to your brother what has been done yeah to your own CHORUS somehow the sunlight will come down to your home somewhere you find a place where you ain?t alone somehow wisdom will come and overflow all your rainy days your teardrops and your mean heavy and hey pearl could you tell me where I am I feel lost in dis ya labyrinth I don?t know where to walk who to trust satan is living in dem corrupted minds and evil seed dem a go plant after dem brainwashed your downtown every corner is a dangerous zone barking people with high fever out of control piff pfaff but the murderer is gone like his shot nobody knows why dis ya innocent girl has been his spot and I hear the woman crying her innocent girl has been his spot and I hear the woman imploring to give her back and I feel the woman dying she lost everthing that she got if you are desperated and falling sing along CHORUS somehow the sunlight will come down to your home somewhere you find a place where you ain?t alone somehow wisdom will come and overflow all your rainy days your teardrops and your mean heavy friend if your life is full of darkness and you can?t see no light you got to be strong start a rebelion and love will let you thrive all of your seeds see them growing and know you know my if you?re fighting you?ll win one day one day someway CHORUS somehow the sunlight will come down to your home somewhere you find a place where you ain?t alone somehow wisdom will come and overflow all your rainy days your teardrops and your mean heavy load