Anything and Everything

Martina McBride

What do you dream about Look at the stars, honey All you gotta do is pick one out And it's there for you I'll be the one who makes Your every dream come true

Close your eyes and baby Make a wish and baby I'll give you anything and everything The sky's the limit and my heart is in it I'll give you anything and everything Anything and everything

Where do you want to go Look at the world, baby All you gotta do is just say so And I'll take you there Oh yeah, you know that Love can take you anywhere

Close your eyes and baby Make a wish and baby I'll give you anything and everything The sky's the limit and my heart is in it I'll give you anything and everything Anything and everything

I could spoil you Make it easy Make you happy if you let me Won't you let me

I'll be the one who makes Your every dream come true

Close your eyes and baby Make a wish and baby I'll give you anything and everything The sky's the limit and my heart is in it I'll give you anything and everything (I'll give you) anything and everything (I'll give you anything and everything)
