

Where My Fortune Lies

Marty Friedman

Took a chance, broken dice.
Paid my cards, ought to be twice.
Get the land, overcare.
Waiting till the day I win.
The out control is a shame.

Chorus:

When the danger is in tonight.
and the world is passing by till my fortune really lies
on the line.

And my quest for seems right.
Taking all the risk inside
till my fortune really lies
on the line.

Got to win, it's my turn.
yesterdays are bridges burnt.
Spin the wheel, once again.
Never quit, till I win.
Still I'm searching every day,
and I know it all the way.

Repeat chorus

Well, this is my fortune.
