

When Your Love Was Mine

Marty Robbins

Where is the sun that used to shine above
Where is the moon that used to glow with love
Where are the stars that used to brightly shine
When your love was mine

Where are the dreams that made my life worthwhile
My world is cold without the warmth of your smile
Gone are the vows that were to be for all time
When your love was mine

Darkness and night drove away the light
You left and they came in love vanished with the wind
So here am I, my lonely cry takes me back again
To a time when life was calm
And your love was mine
