

The Likes Of Me

Marty Stuart

Baby I bet your ears have been burnin'
'Cause the fence post gossip wheels have been turnin'
They're sayin' you gave your love and got taken
And once again, your heart is breakin'
You're thinking lonely's your destiny
But you ain't ever been loved by the likes of me
I'd like to be at your beckon call
I'd like to stay around for the long haul
Startin' tonight, I'd like to make sweet memories
You ain't ever been loved by the likes of me

If you need a helping hand to start over
Baby I can give you more than a shoulder
You say you're havin' trouble believin'
That I won't be lovin' and leavin'
I say you've been hurtin' needlessly
It's high time you were loved by the likes of me

I'd like to be at your beckon call
I'd like to stay around for the long haul
Startin' tonight, I'd like to make sweet memories
You ain't ever been loved by the likes of me

I'd like to be at your beckon call
I'd like to stay around for the long haul
Startin' tonight, I'd like to make sweet memories
You ain't ever been loved by the likes of me
I said you ain't ever been loved by the likes of me
No, you ain't ever been loved by the likes of me
