Don't Waste Your Time

Lately I've got this funny feeling Something don't feel the same But he's telling me I'm the one to blame Yes I know that he still gives me good loving But when he's deep inside There's somebody else on his mind

Don't waste your time But it gets so hard to know Just walk away You say that I gotta let go Seen it a millions times before You shouldn't take his stuff no more Can't waste my time Girl, it's not hard to know Should walk away Oh, you've gotta let him go Seen it a millions times before Shouldn't take his ish no more

Sister girl, sister girl It's much deeper than what you're thinking When something don't feel the same Hey you better believe his love has change (And I have been telling you, telling you) And what you're telling me (Cuz it's been hurting me, hurting me) It ain't, ain't any fool can see He's got a sweetie on the side Stop making truth out of his lies

Don't waste your time But it gets so hard to know Just walk away You say that I gotta let go Seen it a millions times before You shouldn't take his stuff no more Can't waste my time Girl, it's not hard to know Should walk away Oh, you've gotta let him go Seen it a millions times before Shouldn't take his ish no more

What's the point of love When you got no trust What's the point of staying When you seen enough What's the point of giving What he don't deserve

He don't deserve it No you don't deserve it

Oh what's the point of feeling

Like there's nothing inside

Mary J. Blige

What's the point of saying That you still got your pride What's the point of giving What he don't deserve This is a lesson of love

Don't waste your time But it gets so hard to know Just walk away You say that I gotta let go Seen it a millions times before You shouldn't take his stuff no more Can't waste my time Girl, it's not hard to know Should walk away Oh, you've gotta let him go Seen it a millions times before Shouldn't take his ish no more
