Somebody

Everybody has bad days When they feel like no one cares Call your friends in the middle of the night And they just can't be there I know someone who's available And He'll answer every time you call He won't ever leave you alone That's just the kind of friend you should know

Anybody know somebody Someone who will love anybody Even if they're just a nobody I know somebody, somebody

Let me offer you a suggestion And I'll leave without no doubt A love that reaches far and wide That's where my faith lies Let me tell you why Cause every time I'm sad and lonely He comes and puts His arms around me Cause God's love is the first And it is the last so if you ask

Oh I got a friend who loves me so You ask how much I'll never know And since I've found this love I want to share it with everyone, oh

Oh do you know? Oh do you know? Oh!
