If You Need A Reason

Mason Jennings

Got so lost that I went to church Sorry God but you made it worse Made me sit behind a fence Haunted by the evidence

I guess you don't want me to think So instead I'll dream and drink Got too drunk to drive home In the cab I grabbed my phone

And made a call I might regret
To a girl that I just met
Lately things are not okay
I just wanted to hear somebody say

If you need a reason as to why you're here You don't need to look farther then me
If you need a reason as to why you're here
You don't need to look farther then me

Lovely, lovely quiet lake
How could this be a mistake
Too dark now to see your face
Your hair is blowing all over the place

The moon is caught in a frozen glass It could not let this moment pass The sun is waiting far away Until I've had a chance to say

All that's missing, all that's lost Every hope at any cost Every dream too good to come true Floods my heart when I'm with you

And if you need a reason as to why you're here You don't need to look farther then me
If you need a reason as to why you're here
You don't need to look farther then me

Got so lost that I went to church Sorry God but you made it worse Made me sit behind a fence Haunted by the evidence

I guess you don't want me to think So instead I'll dream and drink Got too drunk to drive home In the cab I grabbed my phone

And made a call I might regret
To a girl that I just met
Lately things are not okay
I just wanted to hear somebody say

If you need a reason as to why you're here You don't need to look farther then me, oh

If you need a reason as to why you're here You don't need to look farther then me, oh

If you need a reason as to why you're here You don't need to look farther then me, oh If you need a reason as to why you're here You don't need to look farther then me
