

Living In The Moment

Mason Jennings

I thought i could live forever here on my own
It seemed things were so much better out here alone
A lonely dreamer, a nonbeliever, now
I'm living in the moment with the friends i love
I knew i could feel more power living life without love
So i spent my days and hours looking for heaven above
The only thing that i found was my feet on the ground, so
I'm living in the moment with the friends i love
Money, why do you say what you say, you don't mean it
Money, why do you say what you say, you don't mean it, you don' t mean it
Some say we'll all be rewarded when we reach the end
And all our lives will be recorded and replayed again
One day it hit me, this ain't a movie, now
I'm living in the moment with the friends i love