

Try To Hide

Massacre

Giving to my soul just another way to hide
Setting free the dove is the way you talk
While your grip stills so tight
Away from me and don't look back to feel
The sorrow out of mind, you want get frozen
You don't realize
And y said yeah the sun shines and your fale
Turned grey you know the grave yard where your Dreams are buried, tried to run and tried to hide
Well you can tell me what have found in this side
You see me smile and tears around
I've got no faith I live for today you've got a trust
That never goes down stay with me and don't look
Back you know I never open a trust
Giving to my soul another way to be free
You know the owner ain't me
Don't believe it, no desires,
Gotta show me how to you take me higher
You never wanted to die, don't even wanted to cry
Let's have a real cool time tonight!
