Took a night flight From the city Saw the daylight In Milano 24 hours to breathe it in To go up there Into the cafe That's when I saw her face You know she took my breath away Alright Then she smiled at me I couldn't move Felt like I knew her forever Went up to talk to her Get to know her Before one word She stopped me And said let's leave this place You know she took me heart away Alright

She never even spoke her name
She was like an angel dancing in the rain
She said these last words as she touched my hand
Just remember me, remember me, as we land

As the sunset, turned to moonlight On the rooftop over Milano I lived a lifetime with a stranger Now wishing, that I could find her If only I could turn back time Never would have said goodbye Alright

She never even spoke her name
She was like an angel dancing in the rain
She said these last words as she touched my hand
Just remember me, remember me, as we land
As we land
As we land

She never even spoke her name
She was like an angel dancing in the rain
She said these last words as she touched my hand
Just remember me, remember me, as we land
As we land
As we land
