

Ghost

Mat Kearney

You took the best of me (best of me)
And I'll never know
I'm left with the rest of me (rest of me)
& I can't let go

I'm waiting for a train that's not coming
It's like a waterfall in my head

Oh won't you tell me why
I keep waiting up at night,
Leaving on the lights
Like you never said goodbye?
I hear you at the door,
Footsteps on the floor,
But you're here no more.
What hurts the most
Is sleeping with your ghost (oh)
Sleeping with your ghost (oh)

I still feel you holding me (holding me)
all the world is gone
I still hear you calling me (calling me)
but I don't belong
how do you take the knife from your heart when every beat still hurts the same

Oh won't you tell me why
I keep waiting up at night,
Leaving on the lights
Like you never said goodbye?
I hear you at the door,
Footsteps on the floor,
But you're here no more.
What hurts the most
Is sleeping with your ghost (oh)
Sleeping with your ghost (oh)

When we had a baby girl I was scared to death
And the doctor said "Doll, get ready to push,"
Drove home like we stole the sun.
Those kind of memories don't fade, don't run,
They're stuck to the back of my mind,
I hear you blowing in the trees at night,
I'm still sleeping on my own side.
Yeah, they said you'd never be prepared for the worst ones,
you took your bow, they dropped the curtains,
there's no encore, just me on the floor,
Waiting here for more.

Oh won't you tell me why
I keep waiting up at night,
Leaving on the lights
Like you never said goodbye?
I hear you at the door,
Footsteps on the floor,
But you're here no more.
What hurts the most

Is sleeping with your ghost (oh)
Sleeping with your ghost (oh)

Sleeping with your ghost (4x)
