

Out Right Now

Material Issue

Well if the birds in your sky discontinue to fly tell me why tell a lie can't I have your love? And if the leaves in your trees if they sway with the breeze tell me dear tell me please, have you had enough? And she said...

Well I'm out right now, but I might be back in the morning. I'm out right now. Leave your name and number on the recording.

If the car that you drive, if it suddenly collides, can I give you a ride, can I take you home? And if the words that I say make you run, run away tell me now yeah today, have you heard em all? And she says...

Well I'm out right now, but I might be back in the morning. I'm out right now. Leave your name and number on the recording.

Well I've been waiting so long, I've been feeling so strong, I think about you on a warm afternoon. You're only breaking my heart, but that's the very best part. I hope I see you, and I hope it's soon.

If the things that I say make you run, run away, tell me now yeah today, have you had enough? And if the words that you hear, if they disappear tell me now tell me clear, have you heard it all? And she says...

Well I'm out right now, but I might be back in the morning. I'm out right now. Leave your name and number on the recording.
