

Oh Oh Oh

Matt Corby

All the tears, they taste of salt and yesterday
We had to talk
I wonder how you stayed around
I guess it's now
Well, I guess it's now

That's just how we break
I underestimate the damage that I've made with you

All my fears, they're all my fault
You drove away I guess I'll walk
I don't know how you stayed around
I guess it's now
Well I guess it's now

That's just how we learn to try to discern before every twist and turn with you

Assume I'll hold it down
You thought I'd finally reach out of the rabbit hole
But I'm free from all I know
I assumed that day I'd be there with you

That's just how we break
I underestimate the damage that I've made with you

That's just how we learn to try to discern before every twist and turn with you
