

Wrong Man

Matt Corby

You know you're talking to the wrong man,
My friend
I was on the fence wasting time in future tense
And all I came here for was finding love to help
Me understand my own
It's undefendable
And now you wanna tell me your devoted
All the while you told me you don't know
And now you want to come and sell me what I
Already own
And now you're trying to teach me what I
Already know

You know you're talking to the wrong man my friend
When they bleed you out I won't blame you now
And all I came here for was finding love to help
Me understand my lows
Right, wrong or legal

And all the greatest hands that I would hold
In mine
All the times I had to let them go
And now they want to come and sell you
What you already own
And now they're trying to teach you
What you already know

You know you're talking to the wrong man
My friend
I'll still make amends, gaining time in
Present tense
And all I came here for was finding love to help
Me understand my home
And redefine it all

Sell the air I'll breathing to drown in the sea
I've been beat up did you know you said you know
I get a little bit tuned up I wouldn't if I
Had known
And seeing some part of you hopeful I know and I
Know you don't see
I been busy falling down degrees I know you won't
Count on me
And the truth never bothers me
I know and I know you don't
You're celebrated for your time awake,
I know you won't be sleeping right
