

Unfamiliar Faces

Matt Costa

Your surprises wear disguises
All of your truths masquerade around on Hallow's Eve
So I'll never know what you show to unfamiliar faces

So impressed by you undressing
Did you take his hand aside from love?
The truth would break me in two

I'll never know what you show to unfamiliar faces

This is the voice that's scared to hear those names
So this is the void we'll leave a hole in space

I'll take it kindly if you'd blind me
Holding inside the thoughts I have inquisitively wondering

I'll never know what you show to unfamiliar faces

But this is the voice that's scared to hear those names
So this is the void we'll leave a hole in space

I'll never know what you show to unfamiliar faces
