

The Theme From Loaded Gun

Matt Dusk

He plays the game
Like a moth that finds love in a flame
He's flying high
But desire will burn him alive

This is the price you pay
When you're heart is fooling your eyes

She plays the game
Where the hunter turns into the prey
He wants her still
But the black widow's beauty will kill

Caught in the tender trap
Where the story of heartache begins

What makes a man gamble all his love
He's played but never won
The roulette he knows it's of the Russian kind
Watch out 'cause love's a loaded gun

They play the game
Win or lose they're damned either way
He ends up alone
'Cause Medusa, she turns his heart into stone

She knows there's no way out
But made him believe he could win

What makes a man gamble all his love
He's played but never won
The roulette he knows it's of the Russian kind
Watch out 'cause love's a loaded gun

What makes a man gamble all his love
He's played but never won
The roulette he knows it's of the Russian kind
Watch out 'cause love's a loaded gun

A loaded gun
A loaded gun
Watch out 'cause love's a loaded gun
