

Block After Block

Matt & Kim

Now this is all me, now this is all me

Watch out for late phone calls, we face them concrete walls
Go too far, live too long, time's too short, right and wrong
Block after block, block after block
Rolled down gates look the same, different trips, different trains

Hey friends, break in the back door
And turn it up while the lights are out
Eyes closed and shouting right now

Lights turn on and dark turns outside, blindside, dream big, you're next in line
It's plain now this is all me, now this is all me
Lights turn on and dark turns outside, blindside, dream big, you're next in line
It's plain now this is all me, now this is all

Eat when you're hungry and sleep when you're slipping
Like tired dogs, rested paws, today we show our flaws
Block after block, block after block
If one way, now unwise, what is left now is right

Hey friend, we'll jump the turnstiles
And cut it down while the lights are out
Eyes are closed and shouting right now

Lights turn on and dark turns outside, blindside, dream big, you're next in line
It's plain now this is all me, now this is all me
Lights turn on and dark turns outside, blindside, dream big, you're next in line
It's plain now this is all me, now this is all me

I think it takes a pile of bricks for us to make a home
And I'm not sure, but I hear mountains grow from just one note
Block after block, block after block
Everything happened, every step I've took and street I've walked

Lights turn on and dark turns outside, blindside, dream big, you're next in line
It's plain now this is all me, now this is all me
Lights turn on and dark turns outside, blindside, dream big, you're next in line
It's plain now this is all me, now this is all me