

Never forget my Memories

Matt Nathanson

I have to stop feeling so sorry for myself
But I always have to lean on my own shoulder Because I can't lean on anyone else And it hurts so much to misunderstand and I'm always misunderstood
But I'll never forget my memories, even though I should I have to learn that I can't have all that I once did Because I kept reaching for security that you couldn't afford t o give

And it hurts so much to misunderstand, and I'm always misunderstood
But I'll never forget my memories, even though I should
