Straight to Hell

Matt Nathanson

I grew up just west of the tracks Holdin' me to hold you back Around your door just callin' out my name She said "son why don't you go outside I got a man comin' over tonight" Seventh one in seven days So I go down to the parkin' lot To hang around with all my friends And roam the streets 'til dawn breaks again I come in at 5 a.m. and she is waiting for me She said "where have you been?" i said "i was out" She said "she said you're no good 'cause you're runnin' without love" 'Cause I'm goin' straight to hell Yeah, just like my momma said 'cause I'm goin' straight to hell A black widow and the lady's man We met down the laundry mat And tried to make me understand The neighbors were all in a stir About what they might have heard And runnin' down they shouted out it seems Well next door a girl she lives About the same age as me And asked me to come upstairs for a see And just then her mother bursts in She said "you're that son of a bitch in the wind, Get out of my house and hit the road" And I kept fallin' like a rollin' stone 'Cause I'm goin' straight to hell Yeah, just like my momma said 'cause I'm goin' straight to hell I'm goin' straight to hell Yeah, just like my momma said 'cause I'm goin' straight to hell The stars came out and they warmed me so As I walked on down the road 50 bucks and a suitcase steered me clear She took my hand as we walked into the sun A new day's promise had begun "We'll make it alone whether you like it or not" I turned around and shouted "HELP ME MOTHER!"

'Cause I'm goin' straight to hell Yeah, just like my momma said 'cause I'm goin' straight to hell 'Cause I'm goin' straight to hell Yeah, just like my momma said 'cause I'm goin' straight...to hell
