Runaway

Matt Webb

Sleepless tonight
The storm that's inside
Is falling right from your eyes
You've been here before
This three syllable war is coming out your disguise

I watch you break I can't turn away
I tried to help but you always say,
Everything's fine I just need some time and then you'll realize

Give it up I'm not giving you the keys to my car
While your makeup is running and you're falling apart
You can take it out on me, you can give me a scar
Don't run away, eh, don't run away, eh, eh
Eh, eh, eh, eh, eh...
Don't run away, eh, don't run away, eh, eh

You're starting to crack
Will I get your back
Or will I watch as you fall

Let's turn on the light,
we can try and rewrite your curtain call

Give it up I'm not giving you the keys to my car
While your makeup is running and you're falling apart
You can take it out on me, you can give me a scar
Don't run away, eh, don't run away, eh, eh
Eh, eh, eh, eh, eh...
Don't run away, eh, don't run away, eh, eh

I'll watch you break, I can't turn away
I tried to help but you always say, "Everything's fine
I just need some time," and then you'll realize

Sleepless tonight, the storm that's inside is falling right from your eyes

Give it up I'm not giving you the keys to my car
While your makeup is running and you're falling apart
You can take it out on me, you can give me a scar
Don't run away, eh, don't run away

Give it up I'm not giving you the keys to my car
While your makeup is running and you're falling apart
You can take it out on me, you can give me a scar
Don't run away, eh, don't run away, eh, eh
Eh, eh, eh, eh, eh...
Don't run away, eh, don't run away, eh, eh
