Gonna Be Good

Matt Wertz

It ain't about why or about what
You're gonna do about it
Nothing's gonna change on its own
Something ain't right
Maybe that's life trying to tell you something
But it won't take too long
For you to see it's not wrong

I wanna see you what you're made of
Get up and fight you know you should
Try there's nothing you should be afraid of
I'd take your place if I could
This ain't safe but it's gonna be good

I think about this
What if all your plans just feel right in the place
Would you be better then?
Was it the brokeness that built you
The emptiness that filled you
Or the times you couldn't get away
Let that trouble have its way

I wanna see you what you're made of
Get up and fight you know you should
Try there's nothing you should be afraid of
I'd take your place if I could
This ain't safe but it's gonna be good

It's gotta get worse before it gets good
I know it ain't easy don't mean you should
Don't hide away from what you have to do
Come into the city, buildings are falling
Listen to the crowd, angels calling out to you
To bring you through, to bring you through
To bring you through

I wanna see you what you're made of
Get up and fight you know you should
Try there's nothing you should be afraid of
I'd take your place if I could
This ain't safe but it's gonna be good

I wanna see you what you're made of
Get up and fight you know you should, oh should oh
Try there's nothing you should be afraid of
I'd take your place if I could
This ain't safe but it's gonna be good
(I wanna see you what you're made of)
This ain't safe but it's gonna be good
(I wanna see you what you're made of)
This ain't safe but it's gonna be good
(I wanna see you what you're made of)
(I wanna see you what you're made of)
