

Red Meets Blue

Matt Wertz

You're distracting me with that beauty
Leaving me wanting more
Reminding me of my duty
To lock these eyes to yours

I've never known a love so true
I want to see all of you
When green meets red and red meets blue
I want to see all of you

Sunlight dances with the distance
In her squinty eyed shoes
And I'm chasing down horizon
In hopes of being danced with too

I've never known a love so true
I want to see all of you
When green meets red and red meets blue
I want to see all of you

Daylight sings all that morning air brings
And I'm lost
I'm lost inside you

And I've never known a love so true
And I want to see all of you, all of you, all of you
When green meets red and red meets blue
I want to see all of you, all of you, all of you
