

Where The Road Meets The Sun

Matthew Perryman Jones

Angel wings spread over water worn wishes
Guarding the dreams and the things left unsaid
Here we are wandering, aimlessly roaming
Lovers who linger and never forget

And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun

Waiting for you by the Santa Maria
How long does thou stay with these letters from you
I don't know whether we'll end up together
But I always know that our love is true

And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun

Don't disappear
Darlin', I want you
Don't leave me here
And when the day comes
I'll meet you here
'Cause I know that wishes come true
Finding my way back to you

Angels wings spread over water worn wishes
Guarding the dreams and the things left unsaid
And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun

And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun
And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun
And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun
And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun

And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun
And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun
And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun
And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun

And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun
And when it's done we will walk where the road meets the sun
