

Right Here, Right Now

Matty Mullins

I know I've made mistakes but I'm only human,
I guess I learn the hard way more than most.
I used to feel the pain, now I'm so used to it.
Time passes by, things come and go,
Let it be so.

[Chorus]

Step by step, one day at a time,
I know whatever comes my way I'll be fine.
I don't need anything more than right here, right now,
Right here, right now.
So I'm living in the moment and never looking back,
'Cause I know that this too shall come to pass.
I don't need anything more than right here, right now,
Right here, right now.

Yesterday's regrets can't hold me down, no,
The sun came up today and I feel redemption in my bones.
I won't fear tomorrow's unknown cause I know that (I know that)
It's all out of my control and that's beautiful!

[Chorus]

Step by step, one day at a time,
I know whatever comes my way I'll be fine.
I don't need anything more than right here, right now,
Right here, right now.
So I'm living in the moment and never looking back,
'Cause I know that this too shall come to pass.
I don't need anything more than right here, right now,
Right here, right now.

In your perfect timing I know I'll find everything I'm searching for and more (searching for and more),
Only you know what's in store (only you know what's in store).
Your promises define me, in your presence I know I am home.
I can feel you say I'm right where I belong!

[Chorus]

This time I'm taking it step by step, one day at a time,
I know whatever comes my way I'll be fine.
I don't need anything more than right here, right now,
Right here, right now.
So I'm living in the moment and never looking back,
'Cause I know that this too shall come to pass.
I don't need anything more than right here, right now,
