

At the End of the Day

Mavis Staples

You can live in a mansion, you can live in a tent.
Make your home on a houseboat or an apartment that you rent.
You can live in the suburbs, commute to work downtown.
Or you can be a farmer; earn your live from the ground...

Be a broker on Wall Street, sell food from a cart,
Or you can be a Rock Star, with a record on the charts.
You can drive a race car, pretty cool if you don't crash, or yo u can work in a diner selling corn beef hash.

But at the end of the day, we're all the same. We're all the sa me, that what I say, that what I say.
At the of day. That what I say. At the end of the say we're all the same. That what I say.
