Drown The Demon

Don't you deny me Bare to face Pain and aggression I can't bare it Don't you despise me Dare to chase Wealth and possession Don't underrate me We have been guided by lust Forsaken Drawn to be cruel and unjust This is a command Believe in me Reach out and take my hand Don't you see? You are in need of me Don't underrate me Predestined to fail and give up Just sacrife your soul You can't deny The demon who is in control We shall betray We will rise To slay and sacrifice We shall lead you astray We spread lies In order to survive Don't you evade me Bare to face Fatal destruction I can't bare it Don't you delay me Dare to lace Into your enemy Don't underrate me We have been tempted to flee Forsaken Leaving us idle and weak Your self-pity is just another excuse to shift the blame With might and main Shield your domain We are no victim of our deeds Just take responsibilities Fight for yourself and don't return Before all lessons are learned
