

It's Hard to Be Religious When Certain People Are Never Incinerated by B

Mayday Parade

You're asking the questions but not listening to the answers yo u get
That must be hard to do
It must be about as hard as forgetting your best friends
You said we'd leave no one behind
To prove what you had wasn't dead inside
But we know, yeah, everyone knows what a selfish prick you've b ecome

I remember when one single moment was enough to convince yourse lf to jump in because you wanted to
It's not that far, at least it didn't seem so from down there
But from up here it seems that everything I love is so far away
There used to be many things that I could hold and touch and gr ab onto in stormy weather
These days we have each other
(These days)

Did you honestly think anything would be different this time ar ound
I'm sure you've got a reason and it's profound Believe anything as long as it never lets you down

I remember when one single moment was enough to convince yourse lf to jump in because you wanted to
It's not that far, at least it didn't seem so from down there
But from up here it seems that everything I love is so far away
There used to be many things that I could hold and touch and gr
ab onto in stormy weather
These days we have each other
(These days)

But we know, yeah, everyone knows what a selfish prick you've b ecome

And we all feel love for a moment
And we all get heard together

'Cause I remember when one single moment was enough to convince yourself to jump in because you wanted to
It's not that far, at least it didn't seem so from down there
But from up here it seems that everything I love is so far away
There used to be many things that I could hold and touch and gr
ab onto in stormy weather
These days we have each other
(These days)