

Stick Around

Mayer Hawthorne

He's always fooling around on you darling
Out running all over town
He's always bringing you down pretty darling
Why do you stick around

Now I remember last time that I saw your sparkling eyes
They were blood shot red black makeup all down the sides
He ran off for a midnight rendezvous with Desiree
And they were dancing all night downtown at some cabaret
Now he's back and he's oh so sorry
Wants you near and you can't say no
Girl you know you'd be so much better
Why don't you walk out that door

He's always fooling around on you darling
Out running all over town
He's always bringing you down pretty darling
Why do you stick around

If you were my girl baby I'd love you so tenderly
And you would never have to worry bout a thing as long as you were with me
But you stay with a no good nothing who don't know what he has
And know you breaking my heart when I see the way he treats you so bad makes me sad
Now he's back and he's oh so sorry
Wants you near and you can't say no
Can't you see you'd be so much better
Why don't you walk out that door

He's always fooling around on you darling
Out running all over town
He's always bringing you down pretty darling
Why do you stick around
Why do you stick around
Why do you stick around