Tough As John Jacobs

Maylene and the Sons of Disaster

Always knew the pyro would come out in you It just took some patience Then again I'm always right

You'd think you were dying so you drift it passes time It brings out the lesser in life

All is mine in the closed eye life frustration's about to break the silence (2x)

The dark so nice when twitches progress I make the calls sweat pouring by thousands Set up the lights alarms shouldn't come like this Set up the lights alarms shouldn't come like this

All is mine in the closed eye life frustration's about to break the silence (2x)

I'm not ready to part Come on you can't leave me like this Make your move fast so relieving this will last through your passing away Your Passing away Passing away

All is mine in the closed eye life frustration's about to break the silence (2x)