I feel alright As long as the sun is bright Soon as the clouds come rolling by Big tears form in my eyes Can't explain How I feel when the sky is grey I sit alone and I just pray For a sunny day Rain drops keep falling down Your voice keeps calling me Such a familiar sound Those rainy nights keep haunting me You're still on my mind Even after all this time I've tried to stay away Move on to a brand new day It's such a shame You really couldn't make up your mind I couldn't wait another day For your love
