

I liked the sound of your voice,
but did I make the right choice by choosing you?
I guess I was wrong,
but by the time I was gone
I felt so sad, so blue.
We went together through stormy weather
and when there was plenty of sun.
We drove away at the end of the day.
We were tired of having fun.

Distant love, how could I be mistaken by you.
Distant love, I was wrong in my point of view.
Finally saw what was going on,
but I did what I had to do.
Distant love, how could I be mistaken by you.

You said you would write,
you said it the night we had to part.
I trusted you then, but again and again
you broke my heart.
I will live on with the memory so strong,
but so hard to hide.
I try to forget we ever met,
but it hurts deep inside.

Distant love, how could I be mistaken by you.
Distant love, I was wrong in my point of view.
Finally saw what was going on,
but I did what I had to do.
Distant love, how could I be mistaken by you.

Distant love, how could I be mistaken by you.
Distant love, I was wrong in my point of view.
Finally saw what was going on,
but I did what I had to do.
Distant love, how could I be mistaken by you.

Distant love, how could I be mistaken by you.
Distant love, I was wrong in my point of view.
Finally saw what was going on,
but I did what I had to do.
Distant love, how could I be mistaken by you.