

Restart

MC Chris

I thought we'd always be together
And for a minute we were severed
But now we're back and now we're better
You're the one that has my heart

I made a mess of all these blessings
You caught me before I could confess things
I said I'm sorry I'm such a sex fiend
Cross your fingers then restart

Ever feel emo when you're readin for fun?
You envision that you're the hero who is needin someone
The hero's love is lost due to death most extreme
So you call up your betrothed tell the truth and come clean

I said your name every day we were apart
I almost went insane without you havin my heart
I couldn't sleep couldn't eat
Couldn't function in fact
I thought love was but thunder
I was under attack

Relationships are vacant ships
Without the captain and crew
Bad break ups can be with us
Matters who it happens to

If we're bein' honest we both know I'm no Adonis
