

Beautiful Girls Are the Loneliest

McBusted

You think she's out of your league,
And it plays on your mind.
Look around, look around, look around,
She's one of a kind.
Yet she's all by herself,
And she's looking at you.
You gotta build up the courage,
To do what you've gotta do.

But you see your reflection,
And you fill up with doubt.
And words don't come easy,
To the girl who stands out.
No, the words don't come easy
To the girl who stands out.

No, I, think it's obvious.
Beautiful girls are the loneliest.
So next time, you see one that you can't resist.
Remember: beautiful girls are the loneliest.
Beautiful girls are the loneliest.

So you move a step forward.
But you take two steps back.
Freaking out, freaking out, freaking out.
And it goes on like that.
Scared to make a connection.
Afraid to break down the walls.
It couldn't it be any harder,
Should be no sweat at all.

You know, I, think it's obvious.
Beautiful girls are the loneliest.
So next time, you see one that you can't resist.
Remember: beautiful girls are the loneliest.
Beautiful girls are the loneliest.

You know, I, think it's obvious.
Beautiful girls are the loneliest.
So next time, you see one that you can't resist.
Remember: beautiful girls are the loneliest.
Beautiful girls are the loneliest.
