

Metal Slave

Mean Streak

Wondering eyes reaching out in silence stare into my soul
A cheap disguise a substitute of violence
They want to penetrate and make a hole

You can't break my fence and now your time is running out
Surrounding powers you can't fight

Metal slave
Before the metal gods I stand in owe
But I'm not alone
Metal slave
A wall of solid steel surrounding me
But my heart is always free

Restless mind driven will of fire never will I fall
Lost and found justified by liars
When they burn in flames I will stand tall
