

Shiny Bright

Meg Mac

You say 'love' and then you snap
And then I lose, we all lose you
And then you're back

I just wanna shake it and bring you back
And tell you I'm sorry for something
Oh I think it's time that you come back
Cause I've got your back, I've got nothing to say 'bout it
Didn't mean to make you feel bad about it
Growing up is getting harder to handle
We're waiting for it to fall down
Are you waiting for it to fall down?

Well some they go, and some come back
But not like they used to, you best get used to that
Or you'll find them cracks

I never really thought that forty years from now
Cause, cause everybody told me, "Think here and now"
Oh, I'm seeing hundreds at a time, and all shiny bright

I've got nothing to say about it
Didn't mean to make you feel bad about it
Growing up is getting harder to handle
We're waiting for it to fall down
Are you waiting for it to fall down?

Well shake their hands and deal with it later
They're dressing up to make them feel better
Always shiny, always brighter
Keep it up cause you can do better

I've got nothing to say about it
Now don't you feel bad about it
I've got nothing to say about it
Now don't you feel bad about it
Growing up is getting harder to handle
We're waiting for it to fall down
Are you waiting for it to fall down?
Are you waiting for it to fall down?
