

Alright

Megan Nicole

I should've know what you would do
We're too naive to trust in you
Thinking that your heart would stay
The matches that you held to tight
To light my heart through out the night
Have Burned all th love we made

Finally seeing ally you are Touching nerves numb to your scars
Feeling all the pain you've made, fade

I'll be alright, alright
stand there as I'm walking away
It end tonight
There's no way you can make me stay
Cross your fingers as you tell me your lies
I won't fall this is my last goodbye
I'll be alright, alright without you

Your words so smooth so sweet to taste
I couldn't see your toxic ways
I'm finally breathing on my own
Looking back on what you've done
The lies you told me one by one
Was it worth it in the end

Standing tall and moving on Without you my hope is strong
Feeling all the pain we made, fade

I'll be alright, alright
stand there as I'm walking away
It end tonight
There's no way you can make me stay
Cross your fingers as you tell me your lies
I won't fall this is my last goodbye
I'll be alright, alright without you

When you're falling
I won't be around
You'll be calling
I'm nowhere to be found

I'll be alright, alright
stand there as I'm walking away
It end tonight
There's no way you can make me stay
Cross your fingers as you tell me your lies
I won't fall this is my last goodbye
I'll be alright, alright without you
