

Masquerade

Mehida

A lonely stare
Watching from my window
A crippled heart
Hidden in the silence
A perfect smile
With a wounded soul inside me
Tell me I look fine
In this dance of Masquerade

If I could fly away
To catch my breath before the dive
Is there a shelter
Anything for me to flee to
To hide away
To find a safe place from the storm
I traveled so far
Only to find that I'm lost

I'm so far away (so far away)
On a road so stained (so stained)
Still afraid on the way (on the way)
Oh please tell me
What am I living for?

A restless mind
Covered by a reckless body
Blessed in this heart
With all his vanity
Another day
Hours passing by
Am I still worth looking at
In this dance of Masquerade

If I could fly away
To catch my breath before the dive
Is there a shelter
Anything for me to flee to
To hide away
To find a safe place from the storm
I traveled so far
Only to find that I'm lost

I'm so far away (so far away)
On a road so stained (so stained)
Still afraid on the way (on the way)
Oh please tell me
What am I living for?
